PREFACE.

A genealogical register of the descendants in the male line of David Atwater, one of the original planters of New Haven, Conn., to the fifth generation, was printed in New Haven in 1851. A new edition has been prepared chiefly for the sake of correcting mistakes and supplying omissions. I have embraced the opportunity to record another generation.

Joshua Atwater and David Atwater were among the first planters of New Haven, as their autographs in the first volume of the Town Records sufficiently prove.

Tradition says that the family of Joshua, in the male line, soon became extinct; and all researches yet made serve to confirm it. He was probably a married man at the time of his emigration, as his family is numbered as two persons in the list of planters. If this be so, he soon lost his wife, for he married Mary Blackman, the daughter of a clergyman in Stratford, May 6th, 1651, by whom he had two sons and one or more daughters. The birth of his oldest son is recorded on the New Haven Town Records, and the baptism of two other children on the Records of the First Church, the birth of one of which may be found recorded on the Town Records of Milford. Previous to 1665, or early in that year, he removed to Boston, as in a deed dated "the 19th day of the 4th month (called June)" of that year, by which he conveyed to his brother David his house and lands in New Haven, he describes himself as "Joshua Atwater of Boston, New England." He died at Boston, May, 1676.

The names of his children which have been ascertained were Ann, Joshua and Samuel. Ann married, in 1672, Jeremiah Dummer. Joshua, Jr., married Mehitabel, daughter of Francis Wainwright, of Ipswich, by whom he had three children. He afterward, and probably in 1690, married Mary, youngest daughter of Seaborn Cotton. He was drowned in Boston harbor, Feb., 1692. Samuel probably died at an early age.

[redacted]

Mehitabel, daughter of Joshua, Jr., and Mehitabel Wainwright, married Rev. Benjamin Rolfe, of Haverhill, March 11, 1694. She and her husband were massacred by the Indians in the attack on Haverhill, Aug. 2, 1708. The other children of Joshua, Jr., cannot be traced. They probably died at an early age.

If it be true that the family of Joshua in the male line became extinct, all in America who bear the name of Atwater are descendants of David. None have yet been found whose lineage could not be traced to him.

The history of the family has not been traced backward beyond the two brothers who came from London with Davenport and Eaton, and settled in New Haven in 1638. They were probably parishioners of Davenport when he was rector of St. Stephen's, in Coleman street, and an examination of the records of that parish might trace them to one of the numerous localities in the southern counties of England, where Atwaters were to be found at any time for several centuries previous to the settlement of New Haven. A few extracts from local histories and ancient records may be interesting as indicating places where probably some of the ancestors of Joshua and David dwelt.

(From Brayley's Topographical History of Surrey.)

"Manor of West Clandon: In 1278, the 6th of Edward I., John De Aqua or John At Water seems to have claimed for land he held at Clandon the right and privileges of ancient demesne and without success. The same person, however, on a trial at Guildford against a writ of quo warranto, established the right for himself and his men of Clandon to buy and sell in Guildford market without paying tolls. At the same time John At Water was summoned to answer the charge of having seized and imprisoned Robert le Ken at Clandon Regis: in answer to which he pleaded that the complainant was his villain, and the question was decided in his favor."

(From Rolls of Parliament, Vol. I, Fol. 62, A. D. 1290.)

"Robert Attwater, with his wife Isabella, brings an Assize of Novel Dissiezin, &c., touching tenements in Rotherhithe." Rotherhithe is on the south bank of the Thames, two and a quarter miles S. E. from St. Paul's Church, London.

(From Nomina Villarum, a folio containing the Cities, Boroughs, Villages and Hundreds, their names, and who were the lords of all the manors throughout all the counties of England, from the year of our Lord 1316 to 1559.)

"Johannes Atte Water certified, pursuant to writ tested at Clipston, 5 March, 1316, as one of the lords of the Township of Ickford, in the county of Bucks."

(From History of Buckinghamshire, Vol. I.)

"Ickford, Hickford, Iksford [in Saxon, Teemzaford, from a watery way or passage through the Thames.] Robert Earl, of Morton, half-brother of William the Conqueror, granted this manor with marsh to the Abbey of Grestein, founded by Harlewin de Conteville, his father, and Ickford was by the Abbot and Convent granted to a family deriving its name from this place, * * * How long Grestein Abbey continued to enjoy the estate in Ickford is unknown, but having been seized by the Crown during the wars of Edward II, and again restored, it was a second time forfeited, and the family of Ickford is no longer mentioned, unless their descendants are to be identified with persons denominated Atte Water de Ickford, who afterward possessed a considerable estate here. William Atte Water de Ickford died in 1311, seized of the manor of Great Ickford, held of the king in capite, and in 1325, Nicholas Ryhall, Parson of Ickford passed lands in Great Ickford, with pasture for 6 oxen and 6 cows, by fine, to John Atte Water, and Joan his wife, and their heirs."

(From History of Herts.)

"Parish of Thorley, Diocese of London. William At Water, Clerk, Instituted 6th May, 1333. Thomas Thorpe, Instituted 24th Sep., 1393, upon the death of William At Water."

(From Hutchinson's History of Dorset, Vol. II, p. 351.)

"William Atwater was born at Dennington, in Somersetshire, (Suffolk?) and was fellow of Magdalene College, Oxford, and in 1492, D. D. From 1497 to 1502 he was Vice-Chancellor of that University, and on the death of Cardinal Moreton he for a short time executed the office of Chancellor. After several lesser preferments he was, in 1502, Dean of the King's Chapel; in 1506, Chancellor of Lincoln; in 1509, Dean of Salisbury, and in 1514, Archdeacon of Huntingdon. By the interest of Cardinal Wolsey, he succeeded him in the Bishopic of Lincoln, and was consecrated Nov. 12, 1514. He died February 4, 1520, aged 81, at his palace at Woburn, County of Bucks, in the church of which his bowels were buried, and his body in his Cathedral."

(From Ireland's History of Kent, Vol. III, p. 60.)

The manor of Royton (parish of Lenham) was sold during the reign of Henry VIII to "Robert Atwater, who leaving two daughters and co-heirs, Mary the youngest carried it with other estates at Charing and elsewhere in this neighborhood to Robert Honywood, Esq., of Henewood, in Postling. He afterward resided at Pett, in Charing, being part of his wife's inheritance, and dying in 1576, was buried in Lenham Church. He left a numerous issue by his wife, who survived him nearly forty-four years, when she dying in 1620, in the ninety-third year of her age, was interred near him, though a monument to her memory was erected at Mark's Hall, in Essex. She had, as it is said, at her decease, lawfully descended from her 367 children; 16 of her own, 114 grandchildren, 228 of the third generation, and 9 in the fourth.

The manor of Downe or Downe Court, in the parish of Lenham.

"Robert Atwater, of Royton, in this parish, died, possessed of it in 1565, whose daughter and co-heir, Mary, carried it, with other estates in this parish and neighborhood, in marriage to Robert Honywood, Esq., of Postling."

In the following Register a number is prefixed to each name, which it always retains, and by which it may be distinguished. So many new names have been inserted that I have found it impossible to give to names which were in the latter part of the Register of 1851 the same numbers which were there prefixed. If, as I hope, the old edition shall be entirely superseded by the new, the change of numbers will occasion no confusion.

EDWARD E. ATWATER.

283. Enos, son of Enos, went to the South, and probably settled in Orange Co., North Carolina, where some of his descendants now reside. Tradition says that he had three sons, but gives the name of only one; viz: Titus. (I conjecture that Asaph and Heman, brothers of Enos, went with him to the South, and that the three brothers in the Revolutionary army, whose patriotism is celebrated in the family tradition, were Asaph, Enos and Heman. I feel more uncertain in regard to this branch of the Atwaters than any other, but cannot doubt that Titus, of Orange Co., North Carolina, was grandson of Enos (81) of Wallingford.)

NOTE.—Since the first sheet was printed, I have learned through the kind attention of Robert H. Atwater, son of Charles Henry Atwater (2270), that the family name is not found on the register of the parish of St. Stephen's, Coleman street, London, from 1623 to 1638. The inference is that the brothers Joshua and David, who left England in 1637, in the company of Eaton and Davenport, were not of that parish. They probably came from one of the neighboring counties to join the company. If it is desirable to mention additional probabilities, the occurrence of the family name on records of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in Kent and Surrey, and the puritan emigration from those counties to the New Haven Colony concur in suggesting that the birth-place of the brothers may have been in one of those shires. The researches of Mr. R. H. Atwater have discovered the name in Charing, Lenham and Headcorn parishes, in Mid Kent, a puritan neighborhood, where, according to a Report of Archbishop Laud to the King, made in 1637 (the year in which the company of Davenport and Eaton emigrated), "Brewer, one of the ringleaders of the separatists, not long since slipped out of prison, held conventicles, and put a great many people into great distempers against the church" Further research may find in one of these, or in some neighboring parish, a record of the births of Joshua and David Atwater, and, as I conjecture, between the years 1600 and 1615.

The names given to these brothers by their parents indicate that their puritanism was inherited, and it may be inferred from the large sums they invested in the joint-stock company, which owned the plantation at New Haven (Joshua £300 and David £500) that, if their father was at that time yet alive, they exiled themselves with his approval, to find in New England a place where their "distempers against the church" would subject them to less inconvenience than they were likely to suffer at home.

2263. Leonard Daggett, son of Robert, married Elizabeth W. Schoonmaker, May 27, 1847. No children.

2267. Robert H., son of Robert, married Jane Weaver, June 20, 1850. No children.

The names given to these brothers by their parents indicate that their puritanism was inherited, and it may be inferred from the large sums they invested in the joint-stock company, which owned the plantation at New Haven (Joshua £300 and David £500) that, if their father was at that time yet alive, they exiled themselves with his approval, to find in New England a place where their "distempers against the church" would subject them to less inconvenience than they were likely to suffer at home.
